PARTY ABOVE COUNTRY!

"While I favor passing the Tariff bill, sooner than that this Congress should not pass the Federal Elections bill I would prefer to see every manufacturing establishment in Massachusetts burned to ashes and the people of that State required to labor in callings in which they could not make more than 50 cents a day and be required to live on codfish."—Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA MUDDLE

Our South Carolina friends have got things in a muddle which threatens Democratic supremacy in the Palmetto State. It is a deplorable situation, viewed in any light. And more, it is a situation that could have been avoided by an exercise of wisdom, toleration and justice. From the first there has been a bitterness and an intolerance that has been indicative of a hot-headed determination to rule or ruin. It is needless to enquire who originated the dissensions and who is chiefly responsible for the evil that has been wrought. It has been wrought and has brought a condition of affairs throughout that State that is worse than even in the days of reconstruction. Brother is against brother—neighbor against neighbor—friend against friend and the peace of the State is, at least temporarily, destroyed. Each faction puts the blame on the other. The anti-Tillmanites declare that the whole trouble originated from the irregular presentation of the name of CAPT. TILLMAN for Governor by the March convention, and the proscription made by his supporters of all who were not connected with the Farmers' Movement. The Tillmanites claim that the irregular suggestion of CAPT. TILLMAN was necessary because the machinery of the party was in the hands of an extravagant and dictatorial ring which would not otherwise allow the people to secure the nomination of their choice for Governor. Doubtless both factions have been hasty and unwise, but it seems certain that our friends in South Carolina have been enacting a chapter of mistakes.

MISTAKE No. 1.—The result clearly demonstrates that it was not necessary for the Tillmanites to go outside the regular method and that they could have nominated him in the regular way quite as certainly as by resorting to the plan adopted. This is shown from the fact that out of the 320 delegates elected to the convention, 261 were in favor of CAPT. TILLMAN to 59 against him. This same support could have been secured in the regular way.

MISTAKE No. 2.—After CAPT. TILLMAN had been suggested in this irregular way, there followed on both sides a campaign of vilification and abuse that was totally inexcusable and indefensible. The Tillmanites called names and the Anti-Tillmanites called names, and it is a wonder that bloodshed did not follow.

MISTAKE No. 3.—When the Convention met in Columbia there was a determination upon the part of the anti-Tillmanites to make as many objections and cause as much confusion as possible.
Their conduct in consuming hours over the election of a temporary chairman was very silly and calculated to exasperate the Tillmanites. Their tactics were revolting and calculated to widen the breach. They had gone into the fight, contested every inch of ground, and been routed. It was their duty to submit gracefully, and seek to heal the wounds that had been caused by the bitter struggle. Failure to accept the situation, and their violent action, throughout, makes them censurable.

MISTAKE No. 4.—The Tillmanites went to the Convention apparently determined to rule with an iron hand and show to the minority no quarter or concession whatever. Their conduct is also inexcusable. They had the majority, and they could do what they pleased.
The power carried with it the responsibility to act wisely, prudently and discreetly. So far from doing so they were as rasping and as intemperate and as absent upon crushing the minority as the anti-Tillmanites were upon obstructing the action of the Convention. The people had grievances, and the people had committed to their hands the power to redress these grievances, and it was neither just, wise nor true to the people to jeopardize the redress of grievances by an insane desire to visit vengeance upon their enemies. It is excellent to have the strength of a giant, but it is tyrannous to use it as a giant. It was not necessary for the Tillmanites to elect a new Executive Committee, or to adopt a new Constitution. The Angust Convention was called to "determine whether delegates to the State nominating convention, to be held on the 10th day of September or thereafter, shall be elected by a primary election." The anti-Tillmanites contended that the convention could legally do nothing else but pass upon that question. Upon this point there was difference of opinion and the authorities did not agree. Upon this question came the difference of opinion, and here was the place where the Tillmanites ought to have shown concessions to the minority. They could, without loss and with the effect of gaining strength and producing harmony, have defeated the anti-Tillmanites upon their demand for a primary, and then adjoined without further action to the September convention. With their overwhelming majority, they could have named the new Executive Committee and adopted a new Constitution in the September convention with full and unquestioned power, and thus have secured, without controversy, what they have now secured at the expense of harmony.

GEN. STACKHOUSE, MR. TIMMER-MAN, and other strong Tillmanites, protested against the adoption of a new Constitution. Their advice ought to have been followed.

MISTAKE No. 5. When the followers of CAPT. TILLMAN, in the face of the protest of such of their own leaders as GEN. STACKHOUSE, and the combined protest of the minority, resolved to appoint the new committee, and to adopt the new Constitution, there ought to have been no withdrawal from the convention.

An earnest protest ought to have been offered then and there, if any member desired to do so, but the minority ought not to have withdrawn in a body from the Convention. They declare that they are not bolters—that they do not propose a new ticket—that they will go into the September Convention—and that their withdrawal was merely an emphatic protest. They prepared a statement of the reasons of their action and have sent it out to the voters of the State. This could have been done without leaving the Convention and without having it go out that there was a split in the party.

As we understand it there is no split.
The anti-Tillmanites will renew the fight before the people. If defeated in the September Convention, they will submit to the will of the majority.

THE PROMISE VIOLATED.

[Goldsboro Argus.]

The story goes that Harrison and Blaine are drifting widely apart every day. We have an instance of their collision right here in Goldsboro. Secretary Blaine assured Minister E. E. Smith, two weeks ago, that he would be returned as Minister to Liberia for at least two years more. Following swiftly upon the departure of Blaine from Washington to his summer home in Bangor, comes the news that President Harrison has removed Minister Smith and appointed his successor.

The three B's remedy is said to be able to cure all diseases. The Democrats of the First District believe in it and recommend it to all voters in the persons of BROWN for Judge, BLOUNT for Solicitor, and BRANCH for Congress.

A CANDID CANDIDATE.

He Makes a Unique Announcement.
Sam Colgan, a candidate for county commissioner in Edgefield county, S. C., takes the cake—yes, two of them—for the unique announcement he makes.
Here it is, listen: "To the good people of Edgefield. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and no man can tell whence it comes or whither it goeth, but I am not that kind of a cat. I am a Ben Tillman cat, and if elected County Commissioner, I propose to reform, beautify, adorn, resuscitate, rejuvenate and rehabilitate Edgefield county from the edges of the water up to the top of the rocks. I am a laboring man and haul wood; if not elected I can haul on. I would say more, but—I am a man of few words and full of trouble."

LINCOLNTON CONVENTION.

The Resolutions Adopted by the Convention That Nominated Duke For Judge.

[Special Cor. of STATE CHRONICLE.] LINCOLNTON, N. C., Aug. 15.—The following resolutions were adopted in the Judicial Convention to-day:

WHEREAS, Believing that the principles and the policy of the Democratic party are such as will most effectively secure to the citizens of our Government, life, liberty, peace and prosperity as it is guaranteed to them by its constitution and laws, therefore,

RESOLVED 1st, We heartily approve and renew our obligations to the Democratic party as enunciated in its national and State platform.

RESOLVED 2nd, We hereby enter our most earnest protest against the passage by Congress of any Election bill which in any way tends to interfere with the rights of the citizens of the State in the free exercise of their suffrages, and we imphatically condemn the Lodge or Federal Election bill now pending before Congress.

RESOLVED 3d, That we recognize in Hon. Z. B. Vance, our junior Senator in the United States Senate an earnest, able and fearless defender of the rights of the people and we hereby endorse his past course, express our continued confidence in his ability, integrity and patriotism, and earnestly demand his re-election.

RESOLVED 4th, That we do heartily endorse Hon. A. S. Merrimon and W.
Clark for Chief and Associate Justice of our State Supreme Court.

RESOLVED 5th, That we endorse the action of Gov. Fowle in appointing Hon.
M. L. McCorkle to fill the vacancy in the office of Judge of this 11th Judicial District caused by the death of Hon.
Wm. M. Shipp.

Respectfully submitted,
R. B. MILLER, Chairman.

STATE ALLIANCE.

It Declares for an Increase of One-Fourth for Public Schools.—It Declares for a Railroad Commission.

The CHRONICLE has already given most of the proceedings of the State Alliance—or so much as are made public.
We add to-day the following additional business transacted:

A Increase for Public Schools.

The following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The subject of free and liberal education alike for males and females is a matter of paramount importance to the material and institutional life of a State, and one that especially claims the immediate attention of the industrial classes, the Farmers' Alliance of North Carolina in session assembled therefore

RESOLVE 1. That we favor and recommend the increase of our present public school tax by at least 25 per cent.

RESOLVE 2. That we favor and recommend that ample appropriation and provisions be made by the State for the training and higher education of females.

A Railroad Commission.

RESOLVED, That we demand of the next legislature a railroad commission law with full power to the commissioners to regulate passenger and freight rates on a fair, just, and reasonable basis.

Endorsing the Progressive Farmer.

A resolution unanimously endorsing the Progressive Farmer as the Alliance organ was adopted.

Standing By the Demands.

The following resolution was adopted unanimously:

RESOLVED, By the North Carolina Farmers' State Alliance, that we earnestly urge all members of our order to stand by the national demands made by the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union.

Delegates to the National Alliance.

The following were selected as delegates to represent the State Alliance at a meeting of the National Alliance, which will be held at Ocala, Fla., on the 6th of December next: Elias Carr, S.
B. Alexander, E. A. Moyer, Geo. Wil-lamson, R. B. Vance and M. L. Wood.

The Next Meeting.

The next annual meeting of the Alliance will be held at Morehead City.

He Can't Get In.

(Wilmington Messenger.)

Saint Peter—"Who comes there?"

Applicant—"A soul from the earth."

"What part of the earth?"

"Greensboro, N. C."

"Your name, please."

"Silas Johnson."

"Can't admit you Silas."

"That's strange, indeed. I had an exemplary life on earth and was a model Christian man."

"I see where you are right, Silas, but I understand that while you were in business in Greensboro you would never buy goods from a drummer. We must have perfect harmony up here."

"But why would my presence disturb the peace of Heaven?"

"Well, you see it's this way. Heaven is fast filling up with commercial travelers and I am satisfied that the boys would kick against you coming in."

"Step to one side, Mr. Johnson, and let E. M. Wooten, the Bower snuff man in. Hustle along down now Silas and don't stop until you get to the extreme part."

"So long?" A DRUMMER.

TWO ORPHANS AT HOME

Monopolize All His Time and Attention.

(Durham Sun.)

A correspondent of the STATE CHRO-NICLE, writing from Fremont, pays our townsman, Mr. J. H. Southgate, a compliment, by suggesting his name as a suitable person to succeed Dr. Dixon as Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. A Sun reporter saw Mr. Southgate this morning and mentioned the subject.

"Know nothing about it," he remarked, as he picked up a CHRONICLE and read the communication for the first time.

"Any aspiration to take charge of the children at Oxford?" inquired the reporter.

"No," he answered, as his eyes twink-led with a merry bit of humor playing hide and seek in each upward corner, "I have two at home and they are as many as I can attend to."

OUR CARPET ROOM AN ATTRACTIVE PLACE.

We have opened up the Fall trade this year in carpets, with the largest stock that we have ever shown so early in the season.

Our stock of carpets and kindred stuffs would be creditable to any house in the country.

In the next few weeks there will be some additions made, but even now it will bear every word uttered by us in its praise.

It is the most comfortable and convenient store room for the display of carpets in the State; and no matter whether one's purse is limited or not, they can invariably find the goods to suit, both in style and prices.

While we do carry many very handsome carpets in this department, there is the same thorough appreciation of the wants of those who do not care for the finest goods, and the stock can now boast of the best line of medium-priced ingrain carpets that the people of Raleigh have ever had to look at.

It is immaterial to us the kind of carpet one needs, whether for Parlor, Sitting, Dining, Bed-room, Hall or Stairway, as our purchases are made with the view of having the right kind of carpet for each particular service.

Without a visit to our carpet room, one would scarcely conceive of the completeness of this department, and it is a pleasure for us to show our friends through, whether they intend buying or not.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

The reason RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER is the most wonderful medicine, is because it has never failed in any instance, no matter what the disease, from LEP-TOSY to the simplest disease known to the human system.
The scientific men of to-day claim and prove that every disease is CAUSED BY MICROBES,
—AND—RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER

Exterminates the Microbes and drives them out of the system, and when that is done you cannot have an ache or pain. No matter what the disease, whether a simple case of Malaria Fever or a combination of diseases, we cure them all at the same time, as we treat all diseases constitutionally.

Asthma, Consumption, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Disease, Chills and Fever, Female Troubles, in all its forms, and, in fact, every Disease known to the Human System.

Beware of Fraudulent Imitations.
